

Context:

- This is a landing page for the Komplete Kontrol A-Series MIDI Controller. The product is designed for music production and performance. Its manufacturer, Native Instruments, is one of the most popular brands for music production software and hardware. The A-Series is their selection of keyboards that is more affordable than their rather expensive S-Series, but still of high quality.
- This copy is meant to be a final draft that, if real and not a spec piece, would be on its way to be approved by a client and then turned into a landing page by a designer. All things that I have included in asterisks are image suggestions for the hypothetical designer of the page.

Spend Less Time Searching and More Time Doing What You Love - Playing

The Komplete Kontrol A-Series takes your music production workflow hands-on so you can avoid aimlessly clicking through presets and parameters on your computer. Browse, preview, and edit your favorite sounds all from your MIDI keyboard with pre-mapped parameters and advanced integration.

An Easier Search

Picture of Browser and Encoder

NKS and KOMplete presets are intuitively organized to cut back on time wasted searching for the right preset. Browse presets using the four-directional push encoder, hearing a preview for each one as they appear on the controller's OLED display. Also, use the encoder to navigate your project within your DAW.

Make the Sound Yours

Edit sounds with ease using 8 pre-mapped knobs. No need for the hassle of mapping effects individually and manually. All NKS sounds are ready to be used with the knobs by being mapped to important parameters like envelope controls, filter cutoff, chorus, reverb, and more. Also, the encoders can adjust the volume of tracks within your project.

Play Smarter

Picture of smart play buttons

Once you've selected your preset and edited it to your liking, use Smart Play features to make your idea come alive. Stay in key or map different scales to the white keys using scale mode, play chords by pressing just one key using chord mode, and turn simple notes and chords into sweeping melodies using arp mode. Once you've brought your idea to life, record it straight from your keyboard!

Picture of Keybed

The A-Series keybed is a versatile custom build from Native Instruments. It is lightweight and springy enough for playing synthesizers, but has enough resistance to play VSTs simulating real instruments as well. This makes it a great option for any idea you may want to record, from classical music to EDM.

Get expressive with your playing. Make synths glide, bend, and wobble hands-on with the sturdy and smooth A-series pitch and modulation wheels. Also, plug your own sustain or expression pedal into the controller's TRS pedal input to liven up your playing further.

Premium Build

Sturdy buttons, steady encoders and knobs, and a sleek and spacious design. Built to be used with ease, not confusion or frustration. No cheap buttons or knobs that get stuck, and no cluttered features. And the controller is USB powered, so no need to worry about finding an outlet either.
